

Be authentic

Friday June 8, 2018

To live an authentic life one has to find out what one really wants to live.

One has to live one's ideas, no matter what.

Throw away all spiritual concepts and ideals, be authentic.

Do not bother if others call it egoistic, eccentric, crazy etc.

Find out on your own.

If one represses one's wishes, desires, one stops learning and growing.

Do not look for the approval of anybody.

Have the courage to follow your own star.

Only by living according to one's inner wishes one can find one's original way through this life.

Risk.

Perhaps it proves futile, then it is your authentic understanding.

Perhaps you find fulfillment, then this too is your original understanding.

Certain desires, not fulfilled longings, brought us here into this world.

Now take the chance.

Live it.

Go for it.

Only you can find out what is your original authentic way to live a content and joyous life.

Take the freedom to live whatsoever is your deepest wish.

This life is a gift for you to discover and live it in your original way.
